CBP East Coast Trade Symposium

Increasing Economic Competitiveness through Global Partnership and Innovation

U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) is pleased to announce that the 2013 East Coast Trade Symposium will convene on Thursday, October 24 and Friday, October 25, 2013 at the Washington Hilton Hotel in Washington, DC. This year's theme is

The East Coast Trade Symposium will feature panel discussions with agency personnel, members of the trade community and other government agencies, on CBP's role in international trade initiatives and programs. The symposium will cover key trade initiatives, including the Automated Commercial Environment (ACE) single window and full deployment; the World Customs Organization; the President's National Export Initiative; public-private sector engagement; Air Cargo Advance Screening (ACAS); the Centers of Excellence and Expertise (CEEs); and Trusted Trader Programs.

Because of the overwhelming interest to attend past symposiums, CBP requests each company to limit its registrations to no more than three participants, in order to afford equal representation from all members of the international trade community. If a company exceeds the limitation, any additional names submitted for registration will automatically be placed on a waiting list. Interested parties are encouraged to register early, as space is limited.

The agenda for the 2013 East Coast Trade Symposium and the keynote speakers will be announced soon. Due to sequestration, CBP will not be holding a West Coast Trade Symposium in 2013.

CBP Dedicates Detroit Vessel in Honor of Brian A. Terry

On August 29, 2013, U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) officials honored the name of Brian A. Terry in a ceremony dedicating the agency's newest vessel in Trenton, MI. Brian A. Terry, a Michigan native, was killed December 15, 2010, while conducting a Border Patrol Tactical Unit (BORTAC) operation in an area near Rio Rico, AZ.

“For those of us here today and throughout CBP, the pain of that wrenching loss remains and will never be forgotten,” said Acting Deputy Commissioner Kevin McAleenan.

The Brian A. Terry is a 25-foot Secure-Around-Flotation-Equipped (SAFE) Boat for maritime operations. This vessel is an integral part of the riverine patrol fleet, whose purpose is to stop maritime smuggling into the United States. The 25-foot SAFE Boat is a standard platform in CBP's fleet of enforcement vessels deployed to detect and intercept attempts to illegally enter the United States by way of shallow rivers and lakes.

“If we could aspire to be half of what Brian was, then my career personally would be fulfilled,” said Michael J. Fisher, Chief U.S. Border Patrol. “What Brian did in life, throughout his career in law enforcement and certainly with the Border Patrol was the epitome of honor.”

The Brian A. Terry will patrol the Detroit River from just south of Detroit to the mouth of Lake Erie.

CBP, Aeroports de Montreal Introduce Automated Passport Control Kiosks

On September 17, 2013, U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) and Aéroports de Montréal (ADM) announced the introduction of Automated Passport Control at Montréal-Trudeau airport.

“Automated Passport Control is a key component of CBP’s modernization strategy at ports of entry,” said Dylan DeFrancisci, director of CBP preclearance operations. “By allowing travelers the option to enter their own passport and identification information at the self-service kiosk, we are able to increase efficiency while enhancing security.”

The new system includes 12 kiosks that allow Canadian or American passengers travelling to the United States to enter their own passport and identification information prior to inspection by the CBP officer. The automated process will comprise four easy steps: scanning of the passport; taking of a photo; answering of questions using the touch-screen; and presentation of documents to the CBP officer.

Passengers holding a passport from another country must follow the usual procedure by manually completing the CBP declaration form. In addition, members of the NEXUS trusted traveler program will always be able to use the priority queue.

Extended: CBP Officer Job Opportunity Announcement

CBP opened a CBP Officer job opportunity announcement on July 29, 2013. The announcement’s purpose is to find well-qualified applicants to join CBP’s frontline workforce in 2014 and 2015. CBP is seeking applicants throughout the United States, including the territories and District of Columbia, with a hiring focus on the Southwest and Northern Border and the Central and Northern East Coast. CBP’s hiring process is strenuous, and applicants need to meet exacting standards of fitness, medical, drug, and, most importantly, integrity.

CBP Officers play a vital role in preventing terrorists and terrorist weapons from entering the United States and enforcing customs, immigration, and agriculture laws and regulations at U.S. ports of entry.

Update: CBP has extended the CBP Officer job opportunity announcement to October 9, 2013.
