Reminder: Entry Requirements for Citizens of Bermuda

As a reminder, travelers holding passports from Bermuda do not need a visa, except those Bermudians that fall under nonimmigrant visa categories E, K, S, or V. When entering the United States only a valid passport is required. The “GBR” (green arrow) in the machine readable zone may trigger an ESTA requirement in the airline’s departure control system, but there are no ESTA requirements for travelers holding a Bermudian passport. Airline representatives may have to manually change the document country of issuance to Bermuda (BMU) during check-in process.

(Red Arrows) The top of the biographical page will indicate BRITISH OVERSEAS TERRITORIES – BERMUDA and the authority will state BERMUDA.
